

NEWS OF THE STAGE WORLD.

Ennie Rennie and A. G. Spencer to Be Married To-Day.

Miss Naya Must Not Appear at Sunday Concerts in Tights.

A quiet little wedding is to take place in Brooklyn some time to-day, and as both the bride and bridegroom are exceedingly modest and retiring they have made no announcements of their approaching happiness to Rialto sympathizers. The bride is Miss Ennie Rennie, a pretty little eighteen-year-old damsel, who played last season in Miss Nalla McHenry's "Night at the Circus" company, and who is a niece of that very vivacious and champagne star. The groom is a young man, and a very amiable and unobtrusive young man. Mr. Spencer met Miss Rennie during the season just past and fell in love with her. It was not a romantic affair. The course of true love ran along in most uninteresting smoothness. There wasn't even a stren parent in the affair, and Miss McHenry positively declined to play the role of a forbidding aunt. In point of fact she was very much pleased, and with her husband the humorous John Webster, will attend the wedding to-day, having come to town from the Highlands. There will be no frills and furbelows at the wedding. It will be celebrated with much simplicity at the house of Mrs. Rennie, Miss McHenry's sister. The happy couple will pass their honeymoon at the Adlon, and next season Mr. Spencer will resume his position in auntie's company.

It was rumored about Broadway yesterday that Mayor Gilroy had notified the Casino management that Miss Naya must not again appear on the roof gardens in tights at the Sunday concert. Naya has a number of very stunning costumes to select from, so that she can afford to dispense with the offending garb for one evening in the week.

The latest rumor floating over from Boston is that the famous dancer, Ruth Carpenter in "Featherbrain" next season. This is the play that was produced a few years ago by the famous Square Theatre with Minnie Madden in the leading role.

E. E. Rice and his old star, Henry E. Dixey, are still knit closely by bonds of personal friendship, although their business interests are in different channels. They make a point of meeting at 1 o'clock every afternoon, when they spend a social hour together. Rice is really made Dixey, and nobody was better pleased than Dixey when "Adonis" again captured the affections of the town.

"How I Discovered America" is the title of the new entertainment that George Grosvenor is to present in London for the first time next Monday night. It is not likely that Mr. Grosvenor will say anything about coming back next season, don't you know.

Salvin's manager, Mr. Wilkison, talks of producing "Miss Robinson" a comic opera that he secured in Paris a few months ago, next season. This does not mean that the play will be on the cast. "Miss Robinson" would be a separate enterprise, it is said to be the work of the same order as "Miss Juliet."

John Glendinning is spending leafy June on Staten Island. He astonished the natives there, the other day, by playing polo on the beach. He explained that the weather in England was never much warmer than it was here last week, and that people on the other side were indulging in bathing suits in the water. Glendinning, by the bye, does not go with "Dorothy" next season. He says that Morris made him a tempting offer. He desires work of a stronger character.

Bessie Bonelli is to bring Sign. Bonelli with her from the other side. He is said to be a clever musician, and a humorist. He plays the mandolin, guitar and piano, and sings in Italian, French, Spanish and English. According to his agent, he has been appeared before the Queen of Italy, the Shah of Persia, the Duke of Edinburgh and other nobles of Europe. He will, therefore, be welcome. We can say to him, "Come to America, we are waiting for you." We are sure, reverential creatures, Miss Bonelli, who hasn't appeared before the Queen of Italy, will also be welcome. She is a clever little woman and she will undoubtedly do well. Her manager is an able one.

Mark Smith has a new song in "1429" composed for him by Herman Peritt. Richard Harlow, who has been singing a new song, also has a novel title, entitled "Not Forgetting the Man in the Moon."

Mario Jansen, of comic opera repute, has been playing the part of Rose Leigh in "Roseade" at a Boston theatre. This is not Miss Jansen's first in a non-musical direction. Years ago she made a great hit in England in "Featherbrain" and "The Wandering Jew," and was very anxious that she should continue in that line of work.

Eleonora Duse seems to have made a tremendous hit in England. The papers have been full of her. The papers say: "There can be no question after last night's performance that Signora Duse, who, some years ago, was being hailed as a great actress, is now being hailed as a great actress—great enough to be able to challenge Mrs. Bernhardt upon her own ground. Henceforth there are two Marguerites in the field, distinctly separate entities, neither owing anything to the other, each possessed of a special charm, each touching the highest of dramatic art. Signora Duse's triumph is assured, mainly by her refreshing spontaneity of manner, and her freedom of expression. Her sense of style, which owes nothing to convention, is a masterpiece. This critic considered that Signora Duse died from a weak heart rather than from tuberculosis."

FROM THE WORLD OF LABOR.

The loom fixers and twisters of Patterson, N. J., will celebrate Labor Day at Saal's Park, Haledon.

The Pennsylvania Populist will hold a State convention at Williamsport on June 14, to nominate a State ticket.

The strike of the brewery workmen of Detroit, Mich., has been successful, and the brewers signed a contract with the union.

No general strike of the plasterers' is expected to take place in this city, as most of the bosses are considering the demand of $2.75 for eight hours.

St. Louis is the champion convention city of the world. The National Labor Union National conventions of labor unions have been held there in 1882.

Machine tool fixers in St. Louis have promised financial assistance to the widow of A. Leister, who died two weeks ago, after a long illness. The money was raised during the coming excursion of the union.

Yesterday evening the delegates of the St. Louis Convention of the St. Louis Union of Laborers left this city for St. Paul, Minn., where the annual convention of the National organization is about to be held.

Nominations for officers are to be made at the St. Louis Convention of the St. Louis Union of Laborers this evening. It is known that Joseph Barondine intends to decline any office that may be offered him.

Steamfitters and their helpers, all organized, are demanding an advance from $150 to $175 per day in St. Louis, and the men went on strike.

A new organization of transportation men has been formed at Chicago. It is composed of truckmen, freight-handlers, shipping clerks and others, and one of its principal aims is to reduce the hours of labor about 2,000 men have joined.

Several reporters employed by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch have been discharged for demanding a two weeks' vacation with payment of their wages for the full period. The owners of the paper are not prepared to accede to the demand of the German papers in this city.

Last Sunday T. B. The State Federation of Labor of Wisconsin is now in session at Milwaukee. Firemen's Union No. 1 complains that the union of blacksmiths, farriers, machinists, engineers, cabinet-makers and other workmen employed in shops where machines are being used do not assist them in organizing the firemen, and they have issued a circular requesting all other unions to at least send them the names and addresses of the firemen working in their shops.

The controversy case against the President of the Green-Glass Workers' Association of the United States, who was in a disagreement of the jury at Bridgeton, will be brought up again at the October term of the court. The case is the case of the Cumberland Glass Company, which was an indictment for violating the law against the truck system.

When Does an Amateur Bicyclist Become a Professional?

Preparations for the Yale-Harvard 'Varsity Aquatic Struggle.

What to do with wheelmen, claiming to be amateurs, who are in the employ of manufacturers, is a question which the Racing Board of the L. A. W. has struggled with for several years. Charges have been made against scores of famous fast amateurs in the past, and men have been specified who are believed to be in receipt of regular salaries from wheel manufacturers. Once in a while a spasmodic effort is made to eliminate these bicyclists from the ranks of amateurs, but through some occult influences the suspects bob up blithely at the important race meets, and skip away with a haul of medals and other trophies. The National Cycling Association, which is organized in this city, is the proper refuge of such wheelmen as may be banished by the L. A. W., and if the new organization proves successful, they should co-operate heartily in the new cash prize scheme, for surely tempting prizes are held up in the shape of medals and other trophies.

STARTS WITH A FUND OF $3,000.

Movement for the Release of Irishmen in English Prison.

Irishmen in this country have begun a vigorous campaign to bring about the release of Irish and Irish-American prisoners now in British prisons, and the big mass-meeting held in Cooper Union last evening set the ball a-rolling.

The demonstration was a large and enthusiastic one. It was organized under the auspices of the Irish-American League, which is composed of delegates from the Irish National League of America, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, Irish National Foresters and various other benevolent and patriotic societies, and of which M. D. O'Connell is chairman. City Chamberlain Joseph J. O'Donoghue presided, and speeches were made by Congressman Wagner, Justice Waughoe Lyne, and Representative Quinn.

Letters and telegrams were read from Gov. Flower, Senator Patrick, Hon. Mayor Gilroy, Representative McCallister, Mayor Fitzpatrick, of New Orleans, and other prominent Irish-Americans, which reached $3,000 before the meeting closed.

These resolutions were adopted:

"Resolved, That in view of the fact that the Government of the United States is now in receipt of regular salaries from wheel manufacturers, and that the President and Cabinet are urged to act in this matter forthwith."

"That we consider it necessary to the Government of the United States to be made of such a general character as to embrace those allies who, for their devotion to the cause of Ireland, have not yet returned to their mother land or share in her rejoicing; and be it further resolved, That we will endeavor to secure the release of those Irish-American political prisoners now being detained in British prisons, and that no such person shall be released until the Government of the United States is satisfied that the prisoners are now incorporated, and that the President and Cabinet are urged to act in this matter forthwith."

JIMMIE'S PAIR OF TWINS.

His Troubles Were Doubled by His Friend's Carelessness.

One morning Mrs. Sackett put Julia carefully into her carriage. She tucked her up with rugs, afghans and shawls. Meg often wondered how the baby could breathe; but Julia was fat and hearty, and Meg knew that she grew heavier. So it must have agreed with her.

"Keep her as pleasant and sunny, and take good care of her," said Mrs. Sackett.

She said this every day. Meg took as much care of Julia as any well-meaning but careless girl of fourteen could of a baby. At the crossing she thumped the carriage down into one gutter and banged it up out of the other. The baby was so used to this, and only opened her eyes wide and gasped on arriving at the opposite side.

Meg was just turning the corner when she heard her mother's voice.

"Meg!"

"Yes!"

"Stop at Hurd's and send home three pounds of brown sugar and a half pound of tea."

"Yes!"

Meg thrust her elbows through the
